Village Fathers Have Full Evening, Recess to Mar. 14

Council Studies Ordinances, Hears Reports, Grants Permits

In a busy session that opened promptly at 7:30 p. m. and lasted until 11, considerably beyond the usual adjournment time, the Antioch village council took under advisement Tuesday evening a number of suggested new ordinances and amendments, granted building permits, heard complaints, received reports on finances and on the village pumping and sewage systems, considered spring plans, and finally recessed to a special meeting date set for Wednesday evening, March 14.

At the meeting March 14, a representative of the J. P. Miller pump company will be present to give a report on his recent inspection of the village pumps.

Village Attorney George S. McGaughey was present at the Tuesday evening meeting, at which the procedure for creating a zoning commission and preparing a zoning ordinance was studied. An ordinance creating the commission is to be prepared by McGaughey and presented at a future meeting. The zoning board, according to present plans, will consist of seven members appointed by Village President George B. Bartlett.

An ordinance was adopted abolishing the office of village collector and adding this work to the village clerk's duties.

Put Teeth in Dog Laws

It was also voted to amend the village dog ordinance to include a provision for the destruction of dangerous dogs.

A building permit was granted to Luliver Lasco, allowing for the construction of a small greenhouse attached to his residence on Main street, just south of Murrie's Standard Service station.

Robert La Parr was issued a building permit to allow the building of an extension to his refreshment stand on west Lake street.

Rescue Squad Holds Drills in Preparation for Summer Emergencies

Special drills are being held by the Antioch Rescue squad in preparation for the various types of emergency that may be expected during the approaching summer season.

The first drill was held in conjunction with a meeting Monday evening. April 2 has been set as the date for a meeting to be devoted entirely to drill.

New helmets which have just been received for the Rescue squad members were inspected Monday evening. New raincoats were also recently purchased.

Four calls were answered by the men during the past week.

Monday afternoon at 3:20 p. m. they were summoned to the home of Mrs. Bertha Brown, who succumbed to a heart attack.

At 11:20 a. m. Sunday they answered a call to the Warriner subdivision, where Miss Margaret Quilty was seriously ill with pneumonia. She was removed to St. Therese hospital and is reported to be improving. Miss Quilty has been employed in the Antioch telephone office as an operator.

Walter J. Chinn was given emergency treatment for a heart attack Saturday evening at 11:05 o'clock, and was revived and removed to his home. Members of the squad remained at the home through the night to continue administering oxygen, at the request of his physician. Despite their efforts, however, he suffered a second attack Sunday and passed away.

Nine-months-old Marie Craun of Hickory Corners, a pneumonia patient, was given oxygen for an hour and a half last Thursday evening and taken to St. Therese hospital, where she is said to be doing well.

Supply of Penicillin to Be Available Here Soon

Penicillin, recently released for unrestricted civilian use, will be available by March 15 at Reeves Drug store, it was announced this week by George E. Borovicka.

The supply of this drug, termed one of the most powerful agents yet discovered for combatting infections in the human body, has heretofore been generally reserved for use of the armed forces, except in some emergencies.

Like the sulfa drugs, which are of chemical derivation, penicillin, an organic product derived from certain types of mold, calls for careful administration under the supervision of a physician, and used under prescription only.

Legion to Take Over Danish Hall

Spring Dance St. Patrick's Night Will Be First Function There

The Antioch American Legion post's annual spring dance on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, March 17, will be its first public function in its newly purchased Legion home, the former Danish hall on Ida avenue.

Final plans for taking over the hall, which was purchased from Mrs. Rena M. Clarke, were discussed during a Legion meeting last Thursday evening.

Roman Vos, representing the Legion building committee, and Harry J. Krueger, representing the owner, were in charge of closing the arrangements, which had been under consideration by the Legion for some time.

The hall has for the past several months been occupied by the Antioch branch of the Thordarson Electric company, which recently moved to new quarters in the building at the rear of the Snow White Ice Cream parlors which was recently purchased by the company from Charles N. Ackerman.

The Legion has heretofore held its meetings in the hall upstairs at 899 Main street, the building being owned by Mrs. Addie Zimmerman and under lease by C. R. Keulman, proprietor of Bussie's tavern.

The next regular meeting of the Legion is scheduled for Thursday evening, March 15.

News of the Boys in Service

On display in the window of the Antioch News is a picture of Melvin S. Haney, S. 1/c, of the coast guard. Haney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Haney, Kenosha, Wis., has six major involvements in the Pacific to his credit. He saw action during Allied assaults on Hollandia, Aitape, Biak, Wadke, Sansapor and Leyte. His ship, a coast guard-manned frigate, has covered more than 87,000 miles of Pacific combat waters during a year in the invasion area.

"Having lovely weather here," writes "Jake" Drom from Minneapolis APO 702, and sends a copy of the "Northwest Newscast" to prove it, with the weather notation, "High, plus 34.8 degrees; low, plus 26.8 degrees."

He adds, "Fishing is good, and the ice only about five feet thick."

Lt. William F. Mongan, Lincoln, Neb.

Pfc. Samuel Klass, Walla Walla, Wash.

Pvt. Joseph W. Koukol, APO 703, San Francisco.

Sgt. Russell W. Nickerson, "somewhere in Luxembourg," starts out by expressing his hearty thanks to the News and the Antioch Legion post for keeping him supplied with "the best little paper in the world."

He goes on with some pretty nice compliments, and then gets down to the real, hard-boiled essentials by adding, "but best of all, to me, is that you are close to a good town, Lake Villa!" And, furthermore he says, "believe me, I'd certainly like to jump out of this envelope when you open it!"

(Ed. Note—Aw, now, take it easy, Russ—just imagine our consternation on expecting to find a little, bitty V-mail message, and having a full-sized army sgt. land on the counter instead. 'Twould be enough to have us start agitating to have that midnight curfew moved up to 11 p. m. right quick. But seriously, though—we share the wish that you, and all the other fellows could do just that very thing.)

Sgt. Nickerson closes resignedly by saying, "That, of course, being impossible, I'll delay that for a while and keep my fingers crossed. But what a day that will be!"

Salem Man Is Killed in Plane Crash in China

Sgt. Ervin Kohnke Loses Life While on Bomber Combat Mission

Praise for their son, Sgt. Ervin A. Kohnke, is contained in a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Kohnke of Salem, Wis., from Maj. Gen. C. L. Chennault, commanding the 14th Air Force in China, who told of the circumstances under which the soldier gave his life for his country.

Sgt. Kohnke was killed in action in a plane crash near Kanchow, China, Jan. 14, and was buried in the American cemetery at Kunming.

"Sgt. Kohnke was armorer-gunner of an airplane which crashed near Kanchow, China, while on an important combat mission," the general wrote. "Your son was killed instantly and without pain. The body was interred in an American cemetery at Kunming, China, with full military honors, his comrades and members of my staff attending the services."

"Your son was one of the host of American heroes who have died that we might live in freedom. The many friends and comrades who admired his sincerity and devotion to duty cannot but be inspired by his example. We will always cherish his memory. I wish to take this means of expressing to you the sympathy of the officers and men of my command."

Sgt. Kohnke had been in the service since June, 1942, having previously been employed on the family farm just west of Highway 75. He was home on furlough in December, 1942, and again in April, 1944.

In September, 1944, he went overseas from Hunter field, Savannah, Ga., flying three-quarters of the way around the world with the other members of his B-25 bomber crew to reach his station in China.

In the latest letter received from him by his family, dated Dec. 28, he told of the Christmas celebration at his base.

He was born in New London, Wis. The family moved to Kenosha in 1923, leaving that city four years later to engage in farming. Sgt. Kohnke was a graduate of the Oak View school.

He is survived by his parents; a brother, Clarence, and two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Miller and Miss Marcella Kohnke, all of Salem. Another sister, Mrs. Louis Mowen, died in 1938.

Twelve cousins of Sgt. Kohnke are now in the armed service.

A Share in Kindness

Nothing in life is more difficult for peace-loving people to bear than war with all its grim horror, its unending trail of sorrow, its disruption of homes and its utter waste of life and property. Yet the people of this nation are in the third year of the world's most horrible war.

Each day more blue stars in service flags turn to gold as this son, that brother or that father falls on a distant and unknown battlefield. Each day hundreds, or thousands, of men are carried back to hospitals with grievous wounds. Each is a member of some American family. Thousands, yes millions, of American men in uniform are tired beyond belief of battle, and homesick for home and family. Yet they know they must keep on.

There is no one of us but would give everything to lighten the burden of sorrowing families who have lost their men, or calm the fears of those whose men have been wounded. We would give all we could to ease the pain of the injured, or still the homesickness in those who must fight on.

Today, as the American Red Cross opens its campaign for funds, we can do our share in lightening the burden of sorrow, in calming the fears, and in easing the pain of the wounded.

The American Red Cross was created just for that purpose and through its channels of Mercy we can do most for those who need our help.

The Red Cross is at the front keeping alive the atmosphere of home for the men who are fighting; the Red Cross is in the hospitals cheering the wounded and sending messages home to anxious and fearful relatives; the Red Cross is sending blood plasma and surgical dressings to save the lives of American youth; the Red Cross is here at home to aid and assist families in distress.

This is YOUR Red Cross and through it you can do your share in human kindness and blunt somewhat the horror that is war.

Pioneer County Resident Dies on Visit in Beloit

Services for Chas. Edwards, 93, Held Sat.; Burial at Rosecrans

Charles Edwards, who was born at Hickory Corners 93 years ago and who included among his descendants 13 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren, was buried in Mount Rest cemetery at Rosecrans Saturday afternoon, following services at 1 o'clock in the Hansen funeral home.

Edwards passed away last Wednesday in the Beloit, Wis., hospital, to which he had been removed when he became ill while visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. D. L. Cutler of Beloit.

He was born at Hickory Corners Jan. 14, 1852, and lived in that community for many years. His wife, the late Sophia E. Edwards, preceded him in death in 1936.

A daughter, Mrs. J. F. Crawford, and a son, Thomas, reside in Rosecrans. Another son, Chauncey, is a resident of Kenosha.

Mrs. Bertha Brown Dies Suddenly Here Monday Afternoon

Stricken with a heart attack Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, Mrs. Bertha Brown passed away despite efforts of the attending physician and the Antioch Rescue squad to revive her.

Services were held this afternoon in the Strang funeral home, with interment in Hillside cemetery.

Her husband, Spencer Brown, survives. She is also survived by a brother, Albert Gillespie, and a sister, Mrs. Dolly Bernstein, both of Chicago. She was born in Chicago August 27, 1876. She and Mr. Brown made their home in that city before coming to this vicinity 21 years ago.

Mrs. Brown had been in poor health for some time, but had not been considered seriously ill.

Walter J. Chinn Dies After Heart Attack Sat. Eve.

Sudden Death of Popcorn Stand Proprietor Startles Community

Received almost with incredulity by the many persons who saw him operating his popcorn stand on Main street Saturday evening was the news that Walter J. Chinn had passed away at his home early Sunday.

Chinn had suffered a heart attack Saturday evening at 11:05 o'clock and the Antioch Rescue squad was called to aid in administering oxygen and to remove him to his home. He had apparently rallied somewhat after receiving emergency treatment, but passed away several hours later.

Chinn, who was 62, had been a lifetime resident of the community and received his early education in the Antioch schools.

Had Confectionery Business

For many years he operated a confectionery store and news stand where the Gamble store is now located. He had operated his popcorn business for more than 40 years.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Willard C. Chinn, who is a school principal at Vera Beach, Fla., and three grandchildren.

Services were held yesterday at 3 o'clock in the Strang funeral home, with burial in Hillside cemetery.

"Aunt Lyd" Flint Passes Away After Extended Illness

Buried in Acacia Park Cemetery, Chicago, After Services Here

Eastern Star funeral services were held in the Strang chapel yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for Mrs. Roger ("Aunt Lyd") Flint, well-loved Grass Lake road resident who passed away Saturday in the Lake County General hospital after an extended illness.

The Rev. Warren C. Henslee pronounced the eulogy in her honor. The body was taken to Chicago for burial in Acacia Park cemetery.

Mrs. Flint was born in Burlington, Ia., Nov. 6, 1875, and was the daughter of the late Christian and Selma Doemland.

In August, 1905, she was united in marriage with Roger Flint of Boston, Mass., who survives her. They made their home in the east for many years, in Massachusetts and Vermont, and also spent a number of years in Indiana. Since 1932 they have been residents at Indian point.

A sister, Mrs. R. S. Winship, resides at Indian point and a brother, Henry G. Doemland, is living in Chicago.

Mrs. Flint was a member of the Antioch Eastern Star chapter and was always interested in community affairs and in the welfare of others. She was "Aunt Lyd" not only to her neighbors at Indian point, but was affectionately known by that name throughout the community.

Increased Membership Sought for 4-H Clubs

National 4-H Club Week, March 3-11, is being observed by Lake county 4-H members as a week of re-dedication during which "Heads, Hearts, Hands and Health" are being pledged again to victory.

Members of the clubs are approaching the year's work with the determination to top the production and conservation records of last year.

Last year four Lake county clubs, led by 85 volunteer leaders, aided the war effort by producing and conserving foods, remodeling garments, collecting scrap metal, paper and fat, buying or selling bonds, earning money which contributed to funds that bought four army and navy ambulances and equipped a radio shop in a veterans' hospital.

The aim this year is for a larger membership and project work. In addition, parents are being asked to volunteer their services as club leaders.

New clubs may enroll at the Farm or Home bureau office in Grayslake, Ill.

C. R. Keulman and Elmer Herron are expected to return today from a week's trip to New York City, where they attended the fur auctions.

A meeting of the Antioch Lions' club will be held Monday evening.

"Your Social Security Number Never Changes," Workers Are Advised

"I'm changing jobs. Can I still use the social security card I have, or must I get another account number?" That question is frequently asked at the Waukegan Social Security Board office, according to Manager Bernard Barnett.

"No one should have more than one social security card or social security account number," Barnett said. "No matter how many different employers you may have or how many different cities or States you may work in, the same account number should be used. Your employer reports your wages to the Collector of Internal Revenue under your name and the account number you have given to him."

"The number on your social security card is the number of your old age and survivors' insurance account in which a record is kept of the wages reported for you. The insurance benefits payable to you at 65, or to your survivors in case of your death, are based on that account. If you obtained more than one account number and used them, it would result in having wages reported for you under different account numbers. As a consequence, there would be no complete record of your wages in one account and it might be difficult for you to get all the benefits due you. In case of your death, it might be difficult for your family to get all the benefits due them."

"If you lose your social security card," Barnett said, "you should apply at the nearest Social Security Board field office for a duplicate card. The duplicate will bear the same number as your original card. Don't get a new account number."

The accident occurred on Highway 83 just off Highway 50 as Faber drove his car from the parking lot at Brass Ball Corners. Both cars were reported damaged about the front.

Add to Conservation List—Water

Only recently have late winter rains begun to wash away the snow that has blanketed large areas of Illinois farm land since early in December.

The snow has increased feed requirements in some sections, thus forcing farmers to draw heavily on their stored hay.

On the other hand, complaints of many farm wells going dry in southeastern Illinois are being received by the state and U. S. departments of agriculture.

These complaints are of particular interest in view of reports from some sections of the country to the effect that the level and the amount of underground water are being gradually lowered.

It looks, in fact, as though in addition to conservation of soil, game, timber and wild flowers, the attention of the public is due to be directed next to the conservation of the water resources of the country.

Already, in many areas, marsh land that was once "reclaimed" by draining is being re-flooded.

Dams are being put in on many smaller rivers or at the outlets of lakes to raise, maintain or equalize the water level.

All this points to a growing consciousness of the importance of conserving one of the greatest natural resources of many areas in this country—the abundant supply of water with which they were naturally endowed.

This trend will be watched with especial interest by residents in the Chain of Lakes area, which has been a pioneer in campaigning for the conservation of waterways and natural resources.

True, people here have had a selfish motive in that their livelihood has been somewhat dependent, in some cases, upon the preservation of these resources.

However, in the larger analysis, the livelihood of the nation depends to a considerable degree upon the way in which those resources have been guarded, and it is expected that as time goes on more and more areas will grow "conservation-minded."

Governor Urges Holding of County Fairs

Addressing the annual meeting of the Illinois Association of Agricultural Fairs at Springfield, Governor Dwight H. Green urged county fair officials to plan on holding their fairs again this year. He pointed out that although the demands of war have recently caused additional restrictions on travel and meetings, attendance at county fairs add no burden to hotel or public transportation facilities.

"These county fairs are essential gatherings for the exchange of ideas," the Governor declared. "The prizes offered for the finest specimens of livestock, the best fruits and vegetables, and the products of the skill, industry and are of our farm women produce a friendly emulation that spreads ideas of good farm and home management. Certainly the fairs have been a factor in maintaining the unprecedented production of Illinois farms in this emergency."

Governor Green added that the 62 Illinois county and community fairs held last year drew attendance estimated at more than 2,000,000. State aid to local fairs for the season was $354,019, compared to $262,416 in 1943.

Seeders With Wings

The jeep may supplement the tractor, but the Civil Aeronautics Administration is willing to wager that the airplane will be almost as valuable on many farms.

Richard Wilson, Washington correspondent for Successful Farming magazine, reports that the plane, already successful for dusting crops with insecticide, has done other jobs with little fanfare. Planes have been used for sowing rice—a laborious job that has long resisted modernization. Work is being done on air-borne seeders and CAA says these mechanisms show considerable promise.

Another job for which airplanes have been used experimentally is sowing inaccessible, upland pastures in western cattle country. Forage has been greatly improved by this method.

Laughing at Life

A newspaper which answers inquiries from its readers received this one:

"Please tell me what is the matter with my chickens. They go to roost apparently well. The next morning we find one or two of them on their backs on the floor, stiff, combs white, and their feet in the air."

It was the editor's busy day, so the reader received the following reply:

"Dear Sir: Your chickens are dead."—Successful Farming Magazine.

Of the young men of 15 to 19 years of age, for 100 married and living with their wives, there are 27 living away from their wives. The lowest number of separations occurs in the 30-to-34 age group. At 80 to 84 years of age, the number separated per 100 is 8, and it is 12 beyond 85 years of age.

LT. KINREED, KILLED IN ACTION IN INDIA, VETERAN OF ALEUTIANS

Word has been received of the death of Lieut. Harold R. Kinreed, a native of Marengo, who was killed in action in Calcutta, India, Feb. 17, 1945. The 27-year-old service man enlisted on Feb. 11, 1942, and was sworn in March 30 as an aviation cadet. He graduated at Douglas, Ariz., on March 10, 1943, receiving his silver wings and commission as second lieutenant.

Lt. Kinreed was stationed in the Aleutians for several months as a pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber. On Nov. 10, 1944, after special instruction in piloting B-29 Superfortresses, he and his picked crew left Kearney, Nebr., for their destination, flying to the China-Burma-India theater of war. He was promoted on Dec. 28, 1943, to the rank of first lieutenant.

The deceased is survived by his wife and mother of Marengo and a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carney Kilkerson, of Crystal Lake.

Lt. Kinreed was a son of the late Clyde and Mrs. Kinreed of Marengo. His father was raised in Wilmot and many in this community remember the lieutenant as a young boy when he visited relatives here. He was also a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Winn Peterson of Kenosha.

Dutch Elm

To guard against Dutch elm disease, which is carried by elm bark beetles, all dying elms should be removed and destroyed before the adult beetle makes its appearance in late April and early May. Elm wood which has been cut and piled during the last year should also be debarked or burned since it will also attract carrier beetles.

Sorgo Cane

A new sorgo cane from Ethiopia may have possibilities for sugar production, say USDA officials. It will be tested in the southern states and in the Canal Zone.

Big Increase in Multiple Births

Survey Shows That Service Wives Comprise Most Of Proud Mamas.

WASHINGTON. — It's cause enough for celebration when GI Joe learns he is the father of a bouncing baby boy or girl.

But when word reaches him that Old Doc Stork has presented his wife with twins—or even triplets in some cases—he can be excused for a sudden increase in chest dimensions and the dazed happy expression that comes to all fathers in a special class.

And if all service dads react in the normal manner when news of double or triple blessings reaches them, practically every fighting unit on the Pacific and European fronts has its quota of stork-happy veterans, says Universal Service.

For multiple births are on the increase, and a survey shows that service wives comprise a majority of the proud mamas.

Sociologists and medical men have noted the sharp increase, but they have no ready explanation for it.

Urge to Quick Victory. However, GI Joe isn't concerned with the whys and wherefores of the matter. He just knows that when he becomes the parent of twins or triplets in a single swoop, it's one more reason to struggle for a quick victory.

Also, such multiple fatherhood qualifies him for a strictly unofficial organization known as the "Jackpot Club."

The Jackpot club had its beginnings in the Pacific area, where one fighting unit boasted four dads of twins. It started as a joke, but news of the new organization spread to other Pacific islands and a number of fathers in the same situation clamored to join.

Only the other day three servicemen in Long Island qualified. The stork carried to the Regional hospital, Mitchell field, three pairs of twins within 16 days. To Lieut. and Mrs. William Pfeiffer of Jamaica, he brought daughters and to S/Sgt. and Mrs. Abbott of Westbury, a boy and a girl.

Three U. S. soldiers have become fathers of quadruplets since war began. Last February, on Washington's birthday, in fact, Mrs. Spencer Hutto, 23, of Hillsboro, Ala., presented her husband, a paratrooper, with three girls and a boy.

Four at a Time. A few weeks later S/Sgt. Bill Thompson, formerly of Pittsburgh, became internationally famous because of the birth of quadruplets in Heanor, England.

Last August, the commanding officer of Camp Blanding, Fla., granted an emergency furlough to Pvt. Bill Lee so that he might hurry to Gainesville, Fla., where quadruplets had arrived, all boys. One died as Lee sped to the side of his wife, Mabel, 22.

Teaneck, N. J., joined army air forces Pvt. John Greenwood in his excitement a few months ago when he qualified triply for the Jackpot club. The proud father flew in from Chicago to gaze on two boys and a girl sleeping soundly in the Holy Name hospital. He and his wife, Catherine, 25, had expected only one arrival.

Three little girls, Karen Anne, Nancy Sue and Janet Lee Bachant, born to Pvt. and Mrs. Herbert Bachant of the Bronx, New York City, last March 30, recently took a prominent part in ceremonies incident to the opening of the Sixth war loan drive. Their father never saw them, for early this fall he died fighting for his country in France.

Laws of Aerodynamics

Foiled by Bumblebee

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS. — The airworthiness of the bumblebee, alleged on scientific grounds to be unable to fly, has been defended by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

Pvt. Lyman A. Sayre of the San Angelo army air field, wrote the chamber in New York:

"According to aerodynamics, the bumblebee should not be able to fly. Can you give us any proof, either pro or con, on this subject?"

And the chamber's technical department replied:

"The laws of aerodynamics as applied to fixed wings would prove the bumblebee unable to fly because of the excessively high wing loading. However, a special field of aerodynamics, which might be called 'beodynamics,' would very clearly demonstrate the fact that with sufficiently rapid oscillation it is possible for a very small flat surface to lift a much greater weight than can be expected from an airfoil shape under the laws of aerodynamics."

During 16 months' service, Miss Emerson made 8,000 miles in wintertime in an uncharted jeep, served as coxswain, been barracks officer, had charge of identification, license and routing, and registered publications.

DVORAK MEMORIAL

Antonin Dvorak, Bohemian composer, wrote melodies which were recorded as "String Quartette in F Major," Opus 96, in tiny Spillville, Iowa, in 1893. The composition consumed only 12 days. Later Dvorak wrote "Theme With Variations," part of which, rearranged by Violinist Fritz Kreisler, became known as "Indian Lament." So that the spirit of freedom which inspires men and women to create masterpieces of art in all forms shall endure forever, U. S. men are suffering and dying. Home folks can at least lighten their trials by buying War Bonds to furnish them with munitions, food and medical supplies.

MARCHED TO VICTORIES
ON THE HOME AND FOOD FRONT

Backing Our Fighters With Food. Beef, dairy, swine, and poultry projects are favorites with thousands of 4-H'ers like Donald Stoxen of Hampshire, who was chosen as one of America's leading young dairymen at the National 4-H Congress.

Head as Well as Hands work for Glenn Thomas, State Rural Electrification Champ from Prophetstown. Ingenuity and "know how" enabled club members to construct hundreds of time, work, and animal-saving devices, enabled them to build many pieces of hard-to-get farm equipment.

Food Conservation, meal planning and preparation earned Norma Jean Gahn, Streator, a scholarship at the 4-H Congress. Cooking, canning, sewing and other domestic projects provide fun and education for future homemakers like Norma Jean.

LAST YEAR, inspired by their slogan "Back Our Fighters in '44—Produce, Conserve, and Do Lots More," more than thirty-four thousand Victory-minded boys and girls in Illinois rolled up their sleeves, went to work and did a man-sized job of helping to win the war.

Extra effort was placed on the production of food needed to fill mess kits and market baskets. And having produced the food, they went all-out for its conservation through projects involving meal planning and preparation, canning and preserving the surplus. Other club members made contributions by learning to repair and remodel old clothing, as well as design and sew new garments. Projects in all phases of farming and home-making were completed.

Many special wartime services were conducted by these patriotic young folks... tons of waste paper, scrap metal and fats were saved... four ambulances were donated to the services... equipment for a radio shop in an army general hospital is being purchased.

Social Activities and business-like meetings, complete with officers, speakers, and demonstrations, stimulate and hold interest in 4-H clubwork, give members recreation and a sense of responsibility. Here's the Yorkville 4-H Club in session.

For these, and countless other contributions, we owe our Illinois 4-H'ers a debt of gratitude.

Another 4-H Club Week is here. Parents are urged to encourage their children to join the local club. The advantages of being a club member are numerous. Social activities provide entertainment, teach community leadership. Contests create a competitive spirit resulting in a broader, more thorough education. Physical well-being is stressed. When Head, Heart, Hands, and Health team up, you have an unbeatable combination—the 4-H Clubs. Boys and girls today—leaders tomorrow.

More than 10,000,000 boys and girls from everywhere have taken part in 4-H activities—a glowing tribute to our 4-H clubs' worth. The active Manhattan Snip-Snap Club hold their meetings at regular intervals.

Life in "Waves," Army Medical Corps Topics of Speakers

Uncle Sam is a strict boss, but generally a fairly considerate one, Charlotte Bell, Y 1/c of the Waves, told members of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club at a meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. O. E. Hachmeister.

Miss Bell appeared as the navy representative on an Army-Navy program, with Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, recently retired captain in the medical corps, speaking for the army.

Capt. Zimmerman, who served on Gen. Spaatz' staff during the campaigns in Tunisia, and other parts of northern Africa, told of his experiences and observations there and on islands in the Caribbean, where he was sent early in the war.

He made the trip to his Caribbean station as officer in command of a dental unit, aboard a ship in a convoy from which two ships were lost during the trip, he recalled. Something of the difficulties of setting up and maintaining an army dental office on an island where the jungle, a minor hurricane, an earthquake, and all manner of tropical diseases helped to make life interesting was told by the speaker, who also recalled ruefully the first inspection "stood" by his unit, just off the ship and weary from its journey. Local laundresses, he added, made the second inspection also something less than a success when they "borrowed" some of the uniforms for their boy friends.

Africa he recalled for its startlingly high temperatures, particularly in Iran and Iraq.

"The people of those countries actually cannot work the way Americans are expected to—not only because of laziness, but rather more because they suffer from so many diseases and from such a variety of intestinal parasites and bacteria," he gave it as his opinion. "Their diet also is to blame, since many of them are very poor and do not have adequate food or the right kind of food," he observed.

Miss Bell told something of the daily routine of the Waves and their training.

"We get the same pay as the boys do, and naturally, the navy expects us to do our share to earn it, but they try to give us a break when they can," she said. "Our 'boot training,' for instance, is less rigorous than that of the boys, and although we 'stand watches,' ours are cut to two hours rather than four hours."

Miss Bell is in the offices of the Navy Relief society at Great Lakes and also acts as secretary to Mrs. John Downes, wife of the commandant at Great Lakes.

Mrs. Hachmeister and Mrs. O. S. Klass, president of the club, acted as hostesses for the luncheon served at the close of the meeting.

JUNE HARTNELL'S ENGAGEMENT TO NAVY MAN IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hartnell of Salem, Wis., have announced the engagement of their daughter, June, to Francis G. Hyland, S 1/c, of Beaver Dam, Wis., who is attending radio school at Great Lakes.

Miss Hartnell is a junior at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, where Hyland received his degree in electrical engineering last October. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Hyland is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

CHARLES E. COBB OBSERVES 86TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Honoring Charles E. Cobb on his eighty-sixth birthday anniversary was a family dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cobb at Lake Marie Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The party also was in honor of the birthday anniversary of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Cobb, Millburn.

Those attending from other communities included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cobb, Millburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cobb, Pistakee Bay.

"Charley" is a charter subscriber to the Antioch News, and among those who "signed up" for the as-yet-unpublished community newspaper months prior to its first appearance, in August, 1886. He was a young man of 27 when he, with other forward-looking citizens, gave the late J. J. Burke his encouragement in founding this paper, which is now approaching its 59th year.

STATE POLICEMAN TO ADDRESS P. T. A. MONDAY

Floyd Horton has been a patient at the Veterans' facility, Downey, Ill., for medical treatment.

MEMORY GEMS
Every American citizen should memorize these words: "As sure as the earth turns, force and violence shall be the law; and wars and cataclysmic destruction shall be the penalty; and blood and tears shall be the inheritance of that people who neglect to learn and to teach that the earth has grown smaller, that all men on it are fundamentally alike; and that no human being need now lack food or shelter; and that science has made it necessary for men to live in peace of they want to live at all." (From the Educational Policies Commission of the National Education Association of the United States). And this also: "Worship is a fundamental part of every life. If men would live in peace together they must worship together." Therefore all peace-loving people of this community are heartily welcome to worship at the Methodist Church in Antioch each Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock.

Recent donors at the Red Cross Blood center, 5 North Wabash avenue, Chicago, included Dudley Kennedy, 549 Lake street, Antioch, and Mrs. Lucy B. Lorang, Long Lake, Ill. This was the third donation for each of them.

Mrs. Joseph Patrovsky spent Wednesday in Chicago on business.

Improve Streams
On the theory that more and better fishing holes mean better trout fishing, the New Jersey fish and game commission has asked New Jersey sportsmen to join in an improvement of streams of that state through "snagging" and building small dams of rocks and logs. Approximately 3,500 such dams are said to have been constructed by game wardens in North Jersey during the past few years.

Methods of Family Relations Institute Described for Club

The work of the National Institute of Family Relations, Chicago, in aiding married couples to preserve their marriages and avoid the alternative of divorce was described for the Antioch Woman's club Monday afternoon by Leonard Manning Ware, lawyer and psychologist.

Among the successful techniques used, Ware told the club, is the psychodramatic theater, a scientific method of dramatizing the behavior of the marital partners for analysis and adjustment.

Ware, who is a founder of the institute, explained that it is a private non-profit organization incorporated for advice and counsel toward success in marriage and family life.

He observed that "although divorcees have been taking place at a wholesale rate, a modern scientific approach to this problem demonstrates that marital disharmony and broken homes are preventable or curable by means of proper education and instruction."

"For those who have not found happiness in marriage," he continued, "the institute furnishes a thorough scientific service in problems and disagreements involving maladjustment, personality, difficulties, infantile fixations, home economics, recreation, mutual misunderstandings, marriage psychology, the handling of children, etc."

"When those who are on the road to divorce or separation become fully aware of the disastrous personal consequences, they choose rather to seek re-education and training for successful marriage," he continued, ascribing to this the success of the institute.

Mrs. A. F. Matthison, program chairman, preceded the introduction of the speaker with a reading of Kahlil Gibran's prose poem, "Marriage," from his book, "The Prophet."

Mrs. M. G. Clark of Bristol was a guest at the meeting, held in the home of Mrs. A. H. Kaufmann, with Mmes. George Bacon, Maurice Radtke and Earl J. Hays as assisting hostesses.

The names of four new candidates for membership were presented by Mrs. Paul Ferris, membership chairman, during a business session presided over by Mrs. John Brogan.

Abundant and point-free peanut butter is delightful as a spread and may be used in many ways in cooking. It can be used in place of all or part of the fat in recipes for muffins, baking powder biscuits, simple frostings, cream sauce, scalloped vegetables, drop cookies and cream soup.

They're In It
If there's any question about the part the Smiths are playing in the war, take a look at these figures: According to a recent compilation, there are 21,476 men and women of that name in the navy alone. Next in numerical strength are the Johnsons with 15,045, while the Jones boys and girls are third with 11,035.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

By the Pound: Reports Harry Gilburt: "When I arrived in Wichita recently, at the railroad station, the driver of a taxicab, a very attractive young woman, assigned me to the farthest corner of the rear seat. Hardly was I inside when the cab tilted violently to the right, the reason being that Ed ('Strangler') Lewis, the wrestling champion, had put his foot on the running board. Without any difficulty, Lewis hoisted his 300 or more pounds of massiveness and inserted himself beside me, the two of us filling the seat completely. Then the driver looked inside to see if she couldn't squeeze in another passenger and thus make her trip more profitable. Acknowledging the inevitable, she closed the door and the ancient vehicle creaked and groaned its way uptown. When we reached our hotel, Lewis gave the girl $1 which was exactly double the fare."

Around the Town: Miriam Hopkins, who started out to be a ballerina until a broken ankle forced her into the straight dramatic path, looking wistfully at the marquee posters of the Ballet International. . . . Melody Thompson, the cigarette heiress who became an MGM starlet, browsing around in one of those red-fronted marts—a $3,000,000 baby in a 5 and 10 cent store. . . . Gene Buck making slow progress through Times square because so many friends stop him for a chat. . . . Bob Burns, the Arkansas traveler, traveling Broadway and walking as if pavements made his feet hurt. . . . Mary Martin, looking cuter than ever in a trim gray outfit, peering into a toy store undoubtedly with her thoughts on her little daughter. . . . Maggi McNellis, who always seems to be in a hurry these days, hurrying to keep a luncheon appointment at Gilmore's.

Cuff Notes: Benny Malcholi, one of the most efficient waiters in the Waldorf-Astoria's Wedgewood room, is such an exact double for the Voice that his friends call him Benny Sinatra. . . . Two of our favorite young folks, Sylvia Diamond, account executive for David O. Alber Associates, and Peter Manasse, an importer, whose wedding was set for next month, surprised their friends by slipping away recently and having a quiet ceremony performed. A lot of happiness for them both. . . . Pleasant news that Lucille and Harry Ryan of Detroit are the parents of a pretty little daughter whose name is Sheila Diane Ryan. . . . The first thing Leopold Stokowski told Leo Reisman when they met after Reisman's recent return to New York, was that he had lost Reisman's recording of "St. Louis Blues" and would like another. . . . that recording was made more than 15 years ago.

Faces & Places: Rotund balladeer Burl Ives comparing abdominal bay windows with rotund Toots Shor at the latter's food emporium and remarking, "After all, what are fat people—thin people with flesh?" . . . Dale Belmont, the "girl with the blue velvet voice," looking at a Fifth avenue window display of blue velvet. . . . Homer Croy, who needn't worry about putting on weight, strolling Park avenue. . . . and in the next block, Fulton Oursler, who isn't thin, getting a bit of sunshine. . . . Margaret Carson, entirely too attractive to be a press agent, going into the 39th street entrance of the Metropolitan. . . . She's the Met's official tub thumper this season. . . . An Ohio girl, she carries a buckeye which came from near Toledo, her home town.

This & That: Les Martin, Buddy Powers and George Mills, known to theatergoers as "The Three Stowaways," have been released from the army after serving Uncle Sam three years. . . . They will play the lead in the new revue, "Ex-G.I.s on Parade," which Barney Ross will head. . . . All members of the cast will be men who have served in World War II. . . . Harry Joachim, radio's youngest gag writer, sends this message to women who work in defense plants: "Never carry your welding torches into a crowded bus or street car—you may deprive some man of his seat." . . . Phil Baker notes that many of our desires are often nipped in the bud. . . . While Xavier Cugat avers that his osteopath kneads patients.

Addenda: Says Brother Ned, writing about their dream-come-true which he and Rusty have named Man-Son Farm: "When you come to visit us next summer, we will get up a little early so that you will eat melons with the dew still on them and the corn will be just 30 seconds from the stalk to the kettle." Who was it who said "Time Flies"? Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

Son Inscribe Bomb To Flying Father

NEW YORK.—In a childish scrawl, seven-year-old Patrick O'Donnell wrote "Good luck, Dad," on a 4,000-pound blockbuster bomb destined for delivery to his father, Brig. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr. Patrick, whose father led one of the B-29 missions against Tokyo, was guest of honor at a war bond rally.

Plan to Shuffle People of London

Decentralization Keynote of Ambitious Scheme.

LONDON.—Britain's largest metropolitan area—London—is big enough, and further expansion should be prohibited while its factories and 10,000,000 inhabitants are reshuffled for a more reasonable and decent standard of living, it was recommended recently.

Prof. Patrick Abercrombie, commissioned to draw up a postwar plan for the 2,500 square miles of densely populated London and environs, gave the British ministry of town and country planning 130,000 words of recommendations which, if accepted, would require 10 to 20 years to execute.

Decentralization was the keynote of the ambitious plan which Abercrombie and his staff spent 2½ years perfecting. He recommended that 1,000,000 persons be moved from the heart of London and reestablished in areas within a 30 to 50 mile radius of the old city. Nine new satellite cities with a population of about 60,000 each should be formed on the outskirts of the city, he said.

Industries must go too, the professor said, predicting that industries automatically would cooperate when decentralization was made attractive to them.

The planning expert suggested that evacuation due to air attacks "just about comes within limits of the plan." If returning families are reestablished in the new areas instead of patched-up bomb-damaged homes, this hurdle will be surmounted with little difficulty, he said.

West end London, with its swanky apartment houses, still would be crowded with 200 persons to the acre, but nowhere else in England would the population be so dense. Areas which now are jammed, some of them 500 to the acre, would be reduced to between 180 and 136 persons to the acre, graduating to 30 to the acre in the outlying regions.

Three hundred thousand new homes would be needed under the plan.

Millionaire Stays in One Room for Six Years

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Nearly six years ago Helmut C. Setz, 53, a St. Louis millionaire, went into his hotel room, carefully closed the door behind him and stayed there. Since then he hasn't so much as gone into the corridor, according to his brother, Carl, and until a reporter for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat found him, he hadn't, in all that time, talked with a stranger.

In the interview, Helmut Setz said he had not become a recluse "from fear or dislike of people. Partially it's from desire to continue my chemical studies and read without intrusion." He added: "It's really difficult to give a concise reason for my withdrawal."

Asked if he would ever leave his room, he replied, "Sometime I might."

Setz, a graduate of the University of California, led a normal, active life until he holed up in the hotel, his brother says. But "this is the type of life he chooses. We know he is happy." Setz's food always is served by the same waiter. Neither says anything during the meals. His brother comes in once a week, and Setz keeps abreast of current events by reading newspapers. He has no radio, and never answers his telephone.

Sight of Workers Down Under Is Down Under

NEW YORK.—A visual survey of 900 workers in one of the leading factories in Australia, disclosed that more than 70 per cent had seeing defects that required attention, according to a report received here by the Better Vision institute. The survey showed large numbers of workers with unsuspected visual defects that lowered their productive efficiency and also many, already wearing glasses, who had outgrown them.

Following correction of visual shortcomings of many workers, says the report, both the number and the severity of accidents decreased.

'Corpus Delicti' Turns Out to Be Sea Mammal

TRENTON, N. J.—A torso found on the beach front at Holgate, Long Beach Island, lead state police, coast guardsmen and the Ocean county coroner to believe they had a corpus delicti on their hands, but Dr. William Dodd, who examined it in the Beach Haven morgue, quickly cleared up the mystery. "Gentlemen," he said, "you have here a portion of the body of the manatee, a cotaceous herbivorous mammal of the genus manatus. In other words—a sea cow."

It's Not First Cost, Upkeep Is the Snag

RIO DE JANEIRO.—Invoking an old provision from Brazil's Carta Magna of 1891, the government of the state of Rio de Janeiro has ruled that the poor may have free civil marriages. The purpose "is to legalize the marriages of those now living together without legal status, and legitimize their children."

Freak Pig Is Born on Bristol Township Farm

A freak pig, with a double snout, two mouths and two throats, which was born on the Stanley Nevorski farm, Route 1, Box 37, Bristol township, has been attracting considerable attention.

Old Guillotine May Be Used for French Gestapo

PARIS.—The famous Paris guillotine may be uncrated for the execution of Charles Bony, Henri Lafont and seven other French members of the Gestapo who were sentenced to death recently for working for the Germans during the Nazi occupation.

Previously idle because of transportation difficulties while executions were carried out by firing squads, the guillotine may be used on the nine defendants who were accused of a series of murders, kidnappings, tortures, extortions and robberies in the guise of political activity. Some of them were accused of working for the Nazis in German uniforms.

Westminster Borough Was Hit by 1,100 Bombs

LONDON.—The metropolitan borough of Westminster—seat of Parliament's buildings, government offices and the famous abbey—in five years of war has been struck by 1,071 high explosive bombs, 30 flying bombs, 11 land mines and 94 oil incendiaries, it was revealed.

Casualties include 1,099 persons killed. Twelve hundred buildings were smashed, another 27,700 more were damaged.

Flag Raised Over Japan in '53 May Return There

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The first American flag to fly over Japan—a banner raised in 1853 by Commodore Matthew Perry—may make a return visit with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The board of trustees of the Atwater Kent museum, where the tattered relic is now on display, are considering a proposal that it be sent to MacArthur to accompany him on his invasion of "the land of the rising sun."

Banana Country

Bananas are little Jamaica's big crop. This Caribbean island is one of the most important banana producing countries. In the late 1930's, Jamaica's yield reached well above 25 million stems a year, averaging about 65 pounds to the stem. This was before the blight, carried into the island by a freak hurricane, reduced the crop. The United States, normally the biggest banana importer, takes only a small portion of Jamaica's crop. The bulk goes to Great Britain and Canada.

SGT. PETER P. SMITH EXPECTED ON FURLOUGH

With the 24th Infantry Division in the Philippines—Sergeant Peter P. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith of Grass Lake road, Antioch, has been in the Philippines since he landed there on "A-day" last October, and is at present awaiting his return home.

Sgt. Smith, with the Signal Corps unit of the famous 24th division, has seen his share of combat duty. He stormed the beach at Leyte with assault troops and advanced inland under Japanese mortar, machine-gun and rifle fire. As a teletype operator, he often worked under day and night sniper fire.

Previous to the Philippine landing, Sgt. Smith also made an assault landing in New Guinea, where his fighting signal unit staged a major battle with nature as well as with the enemy in the struggle to establish wire communications in the almost impenetrable jungles of New Guinea.

After two and a half years overseas, the veteran jungle-fighter expects to return to the United States on a well-earned furlough in the near future.

SGT. MARTIN JOHNSON IS KILLED IN ACTION

S/Sgt. Martin A. Johnson, 33, who was killed in action Feb. 20 on the Western front after serving overseas since March, 1942, was a brother of Frank Johnson, Gurnee.

Sgt. Johnson, who was employed at the Johns-Manville plant before entering the service, had been stationed in Iceland and England before going to France.

From an Air Service Command Depot, England—Flying from England to the continent, in all types of planes through all kinds of weather, is all in a day's work for Sgt. George L. Wendt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt, Barrington, who also has many friends in this region.

Now flying as an aerial engineer for the Air Service Command in England, Sgt. Wendt is a member of a small group of air crew men known as "gypsies of the air force." His home is wherever he hangs his flight jacket.

Since the initial landing of American troops on continental Europe, Sgt. Wendt and the men in his outfit have delivered by air anything and everything that can fit inside a plane.

Gas for General Patton's tanks battling in Germany, plasma for the wounded, extra winter clothing and medical supplies for the men up front, even tanks and jeeps are some of the things which he and his fellow flyers have delivered when and where most needed.

Sgt. Wendt joined the army in August, 1942, and has been serving in the European theater of operations since October, 1943.

HARLEY SHOTLIFF, NOW CAPTAIN, WM. LUBKEMAN HAVE MEETING OVERSEAS

Pfc. William Lubkeman, who has been in a convalescent hospital in England, recently met his brother-in-law, Capt. Harley E. Shotliff, there, according to word received by Pvt. Lubkeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Lubkeman.

This was the first time they had met in two and one-half years.

Pvt. Lubkeman was wounded in action Nov. 30, and has been in army hospitals in England for the past three months.

He has now recovered and expects to go back to his division and combat duty with the Seventh army soon.

Shotliff's promotion from first lieutenant to captain was made known recently in letters received by his wife, Mrs. Helen Shotliff, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shotliff of Wilmot, Wis.

Captain Shotliff was home on a 30-day furlough from overseas duty in July, returning afterward to his former base in England.

CARRIER PILOT SEES INFANT SON ON RETURN FROM DUTY IN PACIFIC

Not the least of the pleasures his arrival home from a tour of duty in the Pacific area afforded for Lt. (jg) Walter John Sheen was that of making the acquaintance of his 11-week-old son, Robert William.

Lt. Sheen, a carrier pilot who has been attached to a freighter squadron, was in action from last October until January. He has taken part in four major engagements and is credited with shooting down two "Zekes" (Japanese Zero model planes).

While awaiting his orders to report March 31 at Norfolk for reassignment, Lt. and Mrs. Sheen and their little son are living in Des Plaines.

Lt. Sheen arrived in the United States Feb. 15 and joined his family here Feb. 22. He has been in the service for nearly six years and is one of three brothers, all of whom are in the armed forces. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wray J. Sheen, formerly of Lake Villa.

Wray J. Sheen, Rdm 3/c, of the navy, and Corp. Lyle C. Sheen of the marines may both be addressed via San Francisco Fleet post office. A brother-in-law, Richard Maca, radio-man second class, was formerly on convoy duty in the North Atlantic area and is now attending radar school in Chicago.

"I'm taking time out tonight to drop you a line and tell you that I'm now in California," Elmer Leroy Hartnell, S 2/c, informs the News. "Things sure look different here than they did at Great Lakes. There is grass all around and the palm trees are really a sight. It's quite warm during the day, but plenty cold at night."

"I want to thank you ever so much for sending me the paper in the past and hope to be receiving it here soon."

Seaman Hartnell is at Naval Receiving barracks, Brks. 0223, Shoemaker, Calif.

Lt. Sheen was graduated from Antioch Township High school in 1934.

ROBERT LITWILER IS PRAISED IN DISPATCH

Pvt. Robert A. Litwiler, 28, of Round Lake, who formerly was employed in a garage here, has been praised for his conduct in action with the Seventh army in France.

A dispatch from the European theater of operations, where Litwiler is serving with the 410th infantry regiment, stated that Litwiler "displayed the cool courage of a veteran as he dashed out under enemy fire to tend a wounded soldier."

Pvt. Litwiler has been overseas for about three months of the year and a half he has been in the service.

S/Sgt. Harper J. Tittle of Lake Villa and Pfc. Lloyd A. Willis, son of Martin Willis, Gurnee, are fighting in the Po valley area with the 362nd infantry regiment, a part of the 91st "Powder River" division of the Fifth army.

The 362nd broke through the Gothic line in one of its highest and best-defended sectors, and crossed the Sieve river against heavy enemy concentrations. The outfit then captured Mount Calvi where the Germans had emplaced artillery in fortified tunnels carved in 50 feet of rock. During this 11-day encounter, the regiment captured 400 Germans and several large guns which were defending the positions.

The regiment was organized at Camp White, Ore., in August, 1942. After going overseas, it trained for one month at Oran, Algeria, before being assigned to the Fifth army.

"Guess this kind of puts it up to you, Mrs. Jones-to-be!"

It's up to you, honey.

I'll do all I can—but they don't pay privates in the Army very much.

So—it's up to you. It's your turn now, to wear the pants, hold down a job, and take care of the Jones' future finances.

You're smart enough to do it, too. To realize that if you'll take every cent that you don't need to live on and tuck it away in those same War Bonds I've been buying—we'll do all right.

I'll be coming back someday. I know that. I don't think anything could happen to a fellow who's going to marry you. And when I do come back...

With what I've saved in War Bonds, and what you're going to save in War Bonds, and with the extra money those Bonds are going to bring—well...

We'll have a stake. A stake that'll help us to make up for all the time I've been away.

And we'll have something else, too—something that we wouldn't want to be without. Between my fighting and your buying, we'll have the knowledge that we both toed the line and did our share.

So buy those Bonds, honey. And hang onto them. Till the day when I get back—it's up to you!

Keep faith with our fighters—buy War Bonds for keeps!

Powerful Combination

Penicillin finds its chief use in those cases where the sulfonamide drugs cannot be employed either for the reason that the patients are sensitive to these drugs or that the particular bacteria are resistant to the sulfonamide drugs. The combination, however, of the sulfonamides and penicillin has placed within the hands of the physician an enormously powerful weapon for combatting a number of our serious infections.

Symposium of Ideas Presented by County Educators at Meeting

Lake County P. T. A. Council Hears Forum Talks on "Recreation"

Richard Whitacre, principal of Antioch Grammar school, in an impressive and interesting manner led the "Recreation" symposium at the Lake County P. T. A. Council meeting in Libertyville Monday evening.

The Rev. Paul Turk, pastor of Libertyville Methodist church, stated that there are "four essentials to happiness, namely: Moral principals to guide; satisfactory home life; work, and leisure time." Also that "the church is giving time to training leaders in a variety of leisure time activities so that there is a freedom of choice which is important in any planned recreation program. The church is stressing participation by many and cooperation instead of competition."

Mrs. L. H. Messersmith of Millburn fascinated her audience with a description of a rural school equipped to accommodate 40 and striving to serve an enrollment of 75 pupils.

In an attempt to make up for a necessarily curtailed program of extra curricular activities the following plan was carried out:

Upon the recommendation of W. C. Petty, county superintendent, the local school district kept the school building open and engaged Mrs. Messersmith, the regular teacher, for a month in addition to the scheduled school year. Out of a possible 35 pupils in the lower grades, 31 responded to the invitation to participate in a daily recreation program, including handcraft, music, art and games.

A. J. Katzenmaier, superintendent of the North Chicago schools, pointed out that "the school in every community has a responsibility which it could fulfill provided it had the proper community support."

That the school plan is the logical place for community center activities; that the need should be met now, and that plans for the future must include teaching the children how to choose their leisure time pursuits more wisely.

T. R. Birkhead, principal of the Antioch High school, told how recreational interests and activities vary, and that the individual's regular occupation determines his leisure time activities, which must be a diversion. He claimed that adults need not plan recreational projects for high school youth. However, he said, tasks can be assigned to young people that will develop good citizenship and worthy home membership, and at the same time be projects which include recreation. "Above all," Birkhead stated, "youth needs sleep."

The following officers were re-elected to serve for a second year:

President, Mrs. William Schmalzuss of Zion; vice presidents, Mrs. Robert W. Nelson of Fox Lake and W. C. Petty; secretary, Mrs. William Cazel of Libertyville, and treasurer, Mrs. Fern Lux of Antioch. Mrs. Joseph P. May, P. T. A. district director, installed the officers and announced that the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers will not hold a state convention this year, but that an inspirational and helpful School of Instruction will be held May 14 in Lincoln school, Mundelein.

Carl W. Baylor, legislation chairman, reported that letters and telegrams sent to the legislators by P. T. A. study groups and others helped to increase the State Distributive fund to Nine Million Dollars ($9,000,000 per pupil) and that kindergartens are now included in this distribution.

Hostesses from Antioch High School and Antioch Grammar School PTAs, served home-made cakes, coffee and tea.

Mrs. Irving B. Enevold, Libertyville, publicity chairman, held a round table conference with local P. T. A. publicity chairmen during the social hour.

The Observer

Fr. Joseph Savage's greenhouse, built to shelter his collection of cactus plants during the winter months, has attracted many interested visitors. Father Savage's cactus garden contains specimens gathered by him in travels in this country as well as abroad. Some have also been presented to him by friends who knew of his hobby.

Antioch, described by many unduly surprised visitors as "a pretty cosmopolitan place," has been about as diverse in its reactions to the midnight closing of taverns as the rest of the country.

The main reaction so far as we seem to be able to figure out on the basis of what research we bin doin' so far, seems to have been as you might say, a lack of reaction and a pretty universal alacrity on the part of proprietors and help to avail themselves of a good excuse for folding at midnight and getting home for a nice, early start on their Sunday morning snooze. We see where the night club owners' association in one middle western city is doing quite a bit of weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth, to the tune of "We'll be Ruin'd." But down in New Orleans a philosophical bartender sighs, "It's a relief to get the chronic barflies out and the joint nice and clean and orderly. No more hanging around with a few guys weeping into their beers until all hours—and spending nothing."

The moral, if any, seems to be that maybe you can't please all of the people all of the time, but it's an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody a silver lining.

Even if you can't quite begin gardening yet, it ain't too early to start wishing. Wistful signs of the time of year—such remarks as: "Maybe we can raise some chickens." "We're going to get some berry bushes." "Maybe we ought to start some tomato plants." "I'm going to try some new things this year"—and so on. You can probably fill 'em in better'n we could, anyway.

Monday morning's weather looked like spring, felt like spring and smelled like spring. It was too good to last, and it didn't, with the skies clouding over shortly after noon to dump some March rain down on the washings that had been hopefully hung out earlier.
